HELP! BOOKCASE NEEDED

Does anyone have a bookcase that they no longer want that The Tew Centre could have to sell our books from? As the centre is getting more popular for functions, we are finding it increasingly difficult to continually move 2 tables full of books, in and out of the hall. The idea is that we find a decent size bookcase (say 5ft ish wide with hopefully 3 shelves) that we could put on castors and wheel in and out easily.

We have raised a tidy sum over the last few years for the centre and it would be great to continue, but my back is not willing. So if anyone can help – please call me at Baxters.

HELP! HARRY POTTER BOOKS REQUESTED

If anyone has the following copies of Harry Potter they would happily donate to the “Book Sale” I have a buyer waiting. Goblet of Fire, Order of the Pheonix, and The Deathly Hallows. I am also very low on books in general again, so any donations would be well received.

What a Hoot! – Let me tell you a story. Are you sitting comfortably? Then I'll begin.

After the Great Tew Sale in May we had a couple of ornamental stone animals left that did not sell, (the type you have in your garden) an owl and a stoat or weasel, I'm not sure which. Anyway, as a joke I put the owl on the score hut and the stoat on the square, knowing Gordon would look at the stoat from a distance and think it was a rabbit on his hallowed ground!

Well, to cut a long story short – the owl vanished and we assumed that it had disappeared for good, BUT NO! To date we have received 3 postcards from “Owly”. The first was from Wimbledon, with him in shot looking down onto the court. The second was from the Gower Peninsular, sunning himself by the sea and the latest was from the Cornbury Festival, with Owly sporting a purple feather bower. (Classy) I wonder where he will appear next. Does anyone know the where a bouts of Owly? The case continues. I know a policeman, I may get him on the case. NB The postcards are on the notice board if you wish to keep up with his exploits.

Hope to see you soon.
